Join us for a FREE workshop at Vermont Compost Company

FROM DRY SPELLS TO DOWNPOURS: COMPOST & SOIL HEALTH FOR WATER-WISE LANDSCAPES

Extreme weather is testing our landscapes like never before. Compost and organic matter can transform soils into dynamic systems that hold water during drought and drain it during heavy rain. This workshop connects the dots between soil biology, structure, and water management. With conversation among regional producers and landscape professionals, we'll look at practical ways to integrate compost into nursery and landscape operations for healthier soils, healthier plants, and cleaner water.

Ideal for landscapers and nursery professionals who want to build resilient landscapes from the ground up.

Wednesday,
November 19th
1:00-3:00 PM
